INFIRMARY FARM
REPORT HELPFUL

Committee Offers Several Suggestions Of Constructive Nature.

REPORT SANITARY CONDITIONS GOOD

Committee's Report Given
County Commissioners
Late Monday.

Lisbon, March 6.—A detailed report of conditions found at the County home by a committee composed of County Agent Clarence E. Rowland, of the Columbiana county farm bureau, Willis R. Rupert of New Waterford and Joshua Brantingham of Winona, was filed with the county commissioners Monday afternoon.

The management of the institution was not taken to task, but the report was one of constructive criticism. The text laid bare many situations that should be immediately corrected.

Soon after Commissioner Conrad Berg assumed office, he suggested that an unbiased committee be appointed to make an investigation of the County home, with a view to having the farm placed on a paying basis, so far as its lands are concerned.

Discuss Report
This suggestion resulted in the appointment of a committee which on Feb. 13 visited the County home. In the meantime Mr. Rowland had C. R. Cruikshank, orchard specialist of the extension service of the Ohio State university survey the orchard at this institution.

A discussion of the report, which was read to the commissioners by Mr. Rowland, brought out from Mr. Brantingham that Supt. Lyle B. Harris, should not serve as "jitney boy" for the County home.

It is fair to say, that going after indigent cases, Mr. Harris has an enormous amount of traveling to do, in addition to visiting Lisbon and other parts of the county on business directly connected with the management of the home. That he could be relieved of much of this driving is admitted.

Would Employ Herdsman
The report urges the employment of a herdsman to care for the Guernsey herd at this institution, and in the opinion of the investigators, a herdsman would more than pay his salary, through the development of the herd and the sale of registered surplus stock. This suggestion is looked upon with considerable favor by the commissioners.

Immediate correction of the water supply at the County home has been

Miss Shaffer Sings
At Sebring Services

Miss Virginia Shaffer, converted grand opera singer, is singing at the evangelistic services at the M. E. church, Sebring. The meetings will be continued all this week, which makes the third week.

Miss Shaffer had spent $34,000 on training her voice for opera singing, but after her conversion took up the work of an evangelistic singer. Rev. Mr. Dunaway is preaching at these services. Miss Shaffer is known in Salem to those who have heard her singing at the annual Sebring camp meeting.

City Sued By Farmer
For Stream Pollution

Lisbon, March 6.—Alleging that he had suffered damages in his efforts to raise stock on a farm near Salem, William I. Clay and his wife, Jeannette, have brought suit against the city of Salem for $2,500.

The cause for action is said to be the contamination of a small stream which flows through the Clay farm and which is contaminated by a trunk line sewer from the city. The plaintiffs' stock have to drink of this contaminated water which on pasture and as a result they do not thrive or develop, they declare.

"Lonely Manuel"
Admits He's Only
Real Congressman

Former Aerial Daredevil
Sings Swan Song Of Own Composition.

Washington, March 6.—In a parting shot at congress which thrust him into the public eye, "Lonely Manuel" Herrick, the "former congressional aerial daredevil," today issued a scathing denunciation of liquor law violations among members of the house.

"Lonely Manuel," blaming his defeat on "the big interests," charged many of his colleagues had openly violated the Volstead act during the session of congress just ended. He declared he was "dam glad" to get away from the capital and would carry his fight "direct to the people by my two airplanes."

"I saw so much drinking around congress without looking for it that it made me sick," Herrick declared. "I've seen congressmen bring liquor into the capitol and I've seen 'em liquor up in the house cloak rooms. There were 'caches' everywhere and members would go in those 'caches' and come out wiping their mouths. I've smelt liquor on all sides of me."

"Why there was more foul talk in these cloakrooms than in any saloon before prohibition. It was all a game—these fellows voting dry and drinking wet—just to fool the people."

Calis Congress a Joke
"When you say 'joke' to me, I visualize congress. I'm glad to get away after two years of it, I feel like a person out of jail."

The trouble with congress Herrick said was due to "having so many corruption lawyers as members."

"The country lawyers get a proneness to listen to advice from the great corporation lawyers and between them they run things," Herrick added. "The farmers, laborers and small business men were represented by only one man in the sixty-seventh congress, who, of course, could accomplish nothing against the entire remainder."

"Who was that one man?" he was asked.

"It was me," Manuel modestly replied. "The few good things this congress did in comparison to what it didn't do is infinitesimal. My own best work was done for soldiers, getting them hospitalization, compensation and pensions. I think I fixed up more soldiers than any other man in congress."

HOWARD STOUFFER,
MAYOR'S SON, HELD
FOR COURT ACTION

Prohibition Officer Denies
Charge When Arrested
By Chief Thompson.

RELEASED BY POST
ON BOND OF $2,000

Aftermath To Shooting Of Fleeing Prisoner Nabbed In Raid.

Coming as an aftermath to the shooting of Jacob Mikevoc, Salem coal miner, during a raid by East Palestine and Salem dry enforcement agents on Feb. 3, was the arrest Monday night of Howard Stouffer, son of Mayor F. L. Stouffer of Washingtonville, by Chief of Police T. W. Thompson on a charge of shooting to wound.

Stouffer entered a formal plea of not guilty and was bound over to await action of the Columbiana county grand jury under bond of $2,000, furnished by Mayor Stouffer and Jesse Sheppard of Washingtonville.

Denies Charge
Stouffer entered an emphatic denial to the charge when he faced Mayor Post. His testimony, however, is said to have been conflicting. He is said to have declared at first that he had no gun when the raid was made, then later that "the gun he had would not shoot," and finally that "if the gun he had would have been shot it would have killed all the people in Salem."

Some argument arose when the Salem officers attempted to place Stouffer under arrest, according to Chief of Police Thompson. Mayor Stouffer is said to have refused to recognize the legality of the warrant for arrest because of the fact that he claimed it did not bear the seal of Mayor Post. After examining it a second time he was convinced by the officers that it had been duly sealed.

The arrest of Stouffer followed a lengthy investigation by Salem police after Mikevoc had been wounded in the leg by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of one of the raiding party.

Shot While Fleeing
The raiders had visited the home of Sam Vogelhuber on Railroad st. and had placed both Vogelhuber and Mikevoc under arrest. The latter is said to have had a quantity of liquor on his person when the raiders visited the home.

Mikevoc was placed in a machine driven by one of the raiding party. He later jumped from the car and started to run, being chased by the raiders along lower Newgarden st. He was just about to turn into a yard when he was ordered to halt and was shot when he failed to obey the command.

Mikevoc was taken to a physician's office and later to the Salem City hospital where he remained for some time. No charge was placed against him at the time, it is claimed, but he was arrested a week ago by an East Palestine officer and faced Mayor Ferren on a charge of possessing and transporting liquor. He entered a plea of guilty and according to Mayor Ferren was fined $1,000 and costs. Mikevoc denies this and declares he was fined $100 and costs.

Witnesses Identify Man
Although the shooting was denied by Stouffer, police say that three witnesses have positively identified him as the man who fired the shot that night.

It was pointed out that an officer has not the right to shoot a prisoner under such circumstances as those arising during the raid. According to attorneys an officer has not authority to shoot a man on a misdemeanor charge unless in self defense.

It has been declared that Stouffer was without authority to be in possession of a gun at the time of the raid and that under the circumstances the officer in charge of the party is liable for Stouffer's actions. S. E. Conrad of East Palestine is said to have been in charge of the raiding squad that arrested Mikevoc.

Welch, 75, Cleveland, the latter a resident of Salem at one time, the oldest and youngest of 75 players, entered in the individual division of the city checker tournament planned by the Cleveland Checker Association commission, to start this week at the City club, appeared in Saturday's issue of the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mr. Welch, who is "only 75" as he puts it, has another claim to checker fame. In 1913 he organized what has grown to be the largest checker club in the world. It is the St. Petersburg Checker club of St. Petersburg, Fla.

STEERING BOARD
PASSES ON BILLS
IN LEGISLATURE

Procedure Indicates That Early Adjournment
Is Planned.

ASSEMBLY TO GET
TAX BILLS SOON

Fear That Governor Will Veto The Fisherman's
License Bill.

Columbus, March 6.—Starting today the house rules committee will serve as the steering committee and only such bills and resolutions as it may recommend will reach a vote upon the question of passage in the lower legislative chamber. This change in procedure is interpreted as indicating legislative leaders contemplate early adjournment.

Within the next week it is expected the big appropriation bills will be introduced and the tariff taxation measure and the gasoline tax bill either passed or defeated. Then it is probable a two weeks' recess will be taken.

Reconsidering the vote by which it defeated the bill providing for licensing confectioneries, the house recommended the measure to the dairy and food committee for amendment. The house, also passed the bill.

Passes Dearmond Bill

The house also passed the bill, by Rep. Dearmond, Butler county, providing for the repeal of the law requiring insurance companies to deposit $50,000 in the state before they can transact business in Ohio or any other state. Rep. Dearmond said that, because of the present law, liability companies organized in Ohio must deposit $50,000 in every other state in which they operate.

A modified single tax program has been proposed to Gov. Donahey and legislators by E. W. Doty, Cleveland, former member of the state utilities commission, as a solution of Ohio's tax problems.

The Cole bill, authorizing county auditors to publish annually a list of all property exempt from taxation, including church property and property used for charitable purposes, which passed the house, has been killed by the senate taxation committee. This committee fixed next Wednesday night for a hearing on the income tax bill introduced by Senator Burke, Lorain county, and recommended passage of the tariff bill authorizing county auditors to list the state tax commission to create special assessment districts in cities for public improvements on property to be benefited by the improvement.

Gov. Donahey has signed the "padlock" bill, giving courts authority to declare a place where liquor has been sold as a nuisance and to order it locked up for a year.

The governor did not sign the Atwood-Spindel fisherman's license bill, providing for a fee of 50 cents a year to fish in Ohio waters. Legislative leaders are apprehensive that he will veto the measure.

HEAVY SNOWSTORM
HEADING FOR EAST

Acute Change In Weather
Forecast By U. S.
Weather Bureau.

Washington, March 6.—By tonight the entire Atlantic coast from Washington to the Canadian border will be blanketed in snow, according to the prediction of U. S. weather bureau forecasting today, following the preliminary observations.

Forecasters characterize the acute change in the weather as "a very sudden development." The snow flurry which is passing over the east today they said was caused by a storm which started late yesterday over New Mexico, and set in over a wide area extending from St. Joseph, Mo., to Washington.

New England will see the heaviest snow, the bureau predicted. Through most of New York and Pennsylvania it is expected a thaw will set in tomorrow or Thursday, while in the immediate vicinity of Washington a change for the warmer will begin late tonight.

Pittsburg, March 6.—A heavy snowstorm has been raging here since midnight and is continuing. It is the worst storm of the winter. Trains are having a hard time to maintain running time in the mountains east, north and south of Pittsburg.

Bride's Jewels Rival Crown
Gems Of European Kingdoms

New York, March 6.—Jewels rivaling the crown gems of many European kingdoms were worn by Miss Gloria Morgan when she became the bride of Reginald C. Vanderbilt at noon today.

A necklace of precious stones ending in a pear-shaped diamond pendant, three-quarters of an inch in length, is Vanderbilt's gift to the woman who became his wife. The cost of the string is estimated at $50,000.

PLAN FOR FUNDING
BRITISH WAR DEBT
NEAR COMPLETION

American Commission Ready
To Send Contract To London Tonight.

Washington, March 6.—Negotiations for funding Great Britain's $4,600,000,000 war debt to the United States moved rapidly toward completion today as the American debt funding commission met at the treasury department to draft the final form of a contract which will bind the British to payment on a basis already agreed to by the two governments.

An outline of the contract, embodying the terms of the agreement already approved by congress, will be cabled to London tonight. After it comes back with the O. K. of the chancellor of the exchequer it will be signed by Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador.

Treasury department officials expected today that the British government would prefer a form of bond to cover the entire amount of the debt due the United States, the bond to be of such character that it can later be replaced by another bond or by bonds of smaller denomination.

Other Debtors Next

As soon as the American debt funding commission winds up its work in connection with the British debt—the biggest allied obligation to the United States—negotiations will be pushed with other foreign debtors. Sen. Smoot of Utah and Rep. Burton, of Ohio, who represent congress on the commission, probably will leave during the week, but informal negotiations will be conducted by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and his aides.

An effort to speed up the funding operations will be made soon by Secretary Hughes, who will formally notify France, Italy and other big debtors that congress has made it possible for them to pay their debts with an interest rate much lower than had been anticipated.

The 3½ per cent rate given the British will apply to other debts, but this is the lowest rate which the American commission is permitted to fix.

Salem Man Given
Term In Workhouse

Paul Calvin, Salem, who has been in the county jail since Feb. 26, on a charge of non support and abandoning his two infant children had a hearing before Judge Riddle this morning. Several of his friends and acquaintances, testified that Calvin had not worked steadily and that he had no permanent employment while in Salem. Mrs. Calvin went on the stand and testified to their life in Alliance and Cleveland. Her testimony was in defense of her husband.

At the conclusion of the testimony the court sentenced Calvin to six months in the Canton workhouse. He was taken to that institution this afternoon.

Another meeting of the directors will be held next Monday night when arrangements will be made to resume operations at the mine in the near future.

Ask 20 Indictments
In Dry Law Probe

Cleveland, March 6.—Indictments against 20 or more officials connected with dry law enforcement in Cuyahoga county will be sought by Prosecuting Attorney Edward C. Stanton this week, he announced today, as his probe of conditions neared its close. The prosecutor said that he had prima facie evidences of graft and corruption against many suburban officials.

Today's ceremony was attended by most of New York's socially elite. Miss Morgan was not the conventional "white satin and orange blossom" bride.

The entire color scheme was mauve and white, which for years have been Vanderbilt's coaching colors.

The gown which Miss Morgan wore today is gray on mauve tones. It is the newest thing in Paris, it is said, so new that it has not yet been seen in this country.

BOARD APPROVES
PLANS FOR SCHOOL
BUILDING ANNEX

Architect Submits Several Changes In Plans For 6-Room Addition.

CONTRACT WILL BE AWARDED APRIL 5

Plan New Heating System
And Laboratories In Basement.

Preliminary work looking toward erection of the $50,000 addition to Salem high school was speeded up Monday evening by the board of education when it approved the plans of the Owsley company, architects of Youngstown and Cleveland, for the new building.

The plans and specifications for the addition were presented to the board members by C. F. Owsley of the architectural firm. After he explained in detail the various new phases of the plans, the board voted to approve the plans subject to the approval of the Ohio industrial commission.

The plans presented Monday evening were changed in numerous respects over drawings submitted at a previous meeting of the board. The present plans call for biological laboratories in the basement of the new addition at the east side of the building.

A new heating system also was devised for the rooms in the addition, it being too costly to attempt to connect with the present system used in the main school building. The new system as proposed in the plans approved by the board is the same type being used in the new Rayen High school in Youngstown.

Advocate For Bids

The board authorized the advertising of bids for the erection of the building and according to law they must be advertised four weeks. It was decided to make the last day for accepting bids Thursday noon, April 5. The board will meet that evening to open bids received.

Some delay was occasioned in the issuance of bonds, was announced at the meeting, due to the fact that the first five bonds had been dated wrongly in the advertising for buyers. The matter has been taken up with a prominent firm of bond attorneys and it is expected that this can be adjusted without re-advertising the bonds for sale.

The report of Clerk Albert Hayes showed a total of $16,690.03 in the bank on March 1. The report of the Athletic association of the school showed their finances to be in a decidedly healthy condition, $1,398.40 being reported on hand as of March 1. The board decided.

The board adjourned to meet Wednesday evening when the matter of arranging for the issuance of the bonds will be taken up.

Prominent Canfield Man Buried Tuesday

Canfield, March 6.—The body of the late D. N. Boughton, Canfield manufacturer and councilman who died at sea near Honolulu, has arrived here and the funeral was at the Presbyterian church at 2 p. m. Tuesday.

Mr. Boughton's death several weeks ago shocked the entire community. He was on a trip around the world when stricken with the "flu," aggravated by complications.

He was a member of one of the oldest and most respected families in Mahoning county and all his life was actively identified with the business and civic affairs of Canfield.

Reward Of Efficiency

TWO news dispatches, both under Chicago dates, appearing on the same day, tell the story plainly enough. The simple facts presented answer again, and reassuringly, the query as to whether or not industry, integrity and efficiency are rewarded. By precept, motto and proverb we have all been assured, times without number, that sufficient and satisfying rewards await those who strive. Looking about us we see the fulfillment of the promise, and yet there persists, perhaps, the subtle suggestion that those who have succeeded and achieved have done so because of favoritism or the solicitude of those persons of influence or power with whom they associated. The inclination is to believe that others might have progressed similarly had they been the recipients of equal consideration.

One of the news items referred to tells of the selection as president of the largest and wealthiest packing corporation in the world of a man who has risen from the very lowest ranks in the industry which his company conducts. The other tells of the voluntary retirement, after a service covering a period of 50 years, of a man who entered the employ of a large Chicago mercantile establishment at a salary of $10 a week and who finally became president of the organization. That is the published record of a single American city for one day. The parallel is striking, but one is inclined to believe it, if he has observed with some care the methods and practices of the business world, that it is far from being unique.

The great need, in all line of human endeavor, is for those men and women who are able and willing to consecrate themselves to the accomplishment of that work which their hands have found to do. Too many seek to climb to the top by ways which should never be tried. Efficiency and skill, the products only of application and a determination to master every important detail of a business or industry, are too often regarded as acquisitions which exacting standards have arbitrarily provided to defeat the ends of the aspiring and the ambitious. The drudgery of the preparatory school is distasteful to many. Surely there must be some short cut, which avoids the toilsome path of apprenticeship!

The need in every line of activity is for the intensive training of all those who enter the open field of competition. There is no room for the laggard, the procrastinator. Those whose investments are in the great industries have come to a realization that they cannot afford to risk the management of their affairs with incompetents simply because those incompetents happen to fall heir to the hereditary title of manager, director or executive. The race is too swift to permit of such experiments.

And it is because of this that the common laborer in a packing plant becomes president of a great and wealthy industrial organization, and a clerk in a department store retires after serving as president of a concern of world-wide fame after having proved, by long and active years of devotion the value of the training he received at the bottom of the ladder.

BIG CITIES NOT UNHEALTHFUL

Large Centers of Population Even Have Certain Advantages Over the Country Village.

From the standpoint of health there is a strong prejudice in favor of country life, and city dwellers sometimes wonder why country people whom they know, do not look more robust. As a matter of fact there are certain advantages along the lines of bodily welfare which the modern city has over the country. In the country the air is of course purer. The exercise is beneficial which the countryman is obliged to take in the absence of the busses and tram cars which are all too handy to the city man. The more natural hours which the lack of artificial light imposes in the country is conducive to health, as is also the lesser nervous strain of rural life and the absence of crowds, which greatly reduce the chances of infection. Against this the modern town can boast a perfect water supply and good sanitation, a regular inspection of food, and a health department ready to cope intelligently with an outbreak of disease. Few small country houses are equipped with baths, but the townsman has at any rate his public baths. Years ago when our great cities were growing up haphazard, they were so bad that the country under almost any circumstances was far healthier. Today, however, with town planning and changed industrial conditions many of the larger cities have a death rate extremely low in comparison with the villages.—Montreal Family Herald.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Hair that loses its color and luster, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grand mother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this oldtime recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and luster and gives it an appearance of abundance.

NO MATTER whether your business is small or large, you will find every one of our officers and employees always ready to serve you promptly, courteously and efficiently.

TWO COUNTIES HIT SEVERELY BY GALE

Five Youngstown People Hurt, $25,000 Loss In Trumbull.

Warren, March 6.—Loss from the gale which hit Trumbull county Sunday was estimated at $25,000 here today.

Motorists report that this morning some of the northern portions of the county presented a devastated appearance, with trees and telephone poles down and small buildings moved from their foundations.

Warren and Niles telephone companies' officials report that 600 telephones on their lines are "out." For the second time within the month a glass plate window in the D. E. Miller & Son garage was blown in, while the smokestack on the Warren steam laundry was wrecked.

Youngstown, March 6.—Five men were injured slightly as the result of high wind here Sunday night. One was blown from a motorcycle on which he was riding, two were caught by a shower of glass when a large window was broken in an East Federal st. furniture store, and two were hit by an automobile while chasing a hat blown by the wind.

Four portable buildings used by Youngstown schools were damaged. Sessions in two of them were suspended pending repairs.

The Ohio-Bell Telephone Co. reported 36 telephone poles blown down in this city and 11 more near here.

MESSAGE FROM THE ROMANS

French Soldiers Found That Conquering Legions Had Preceded Them Through Pass in Algeria.

The overseas veteran may well glory in his achievements. That is one of the rewards of valor. If at times he is unfair in his contentions, it is usually for lack, not of generosity, but of perspective. The vaunting doughboy should ponder the story of the French soldiers who during the early days of the French occupation of Algeria worked their way through a pass that until then was thought to be inaccessible. They were, says Mr. M. W. Hilton-Simpson in "Among the Hill Folk of Algeria," naturally proud of what they had done and asked the commanding officer to allow them to carve the names of their regiments and the date on some suitable rock.

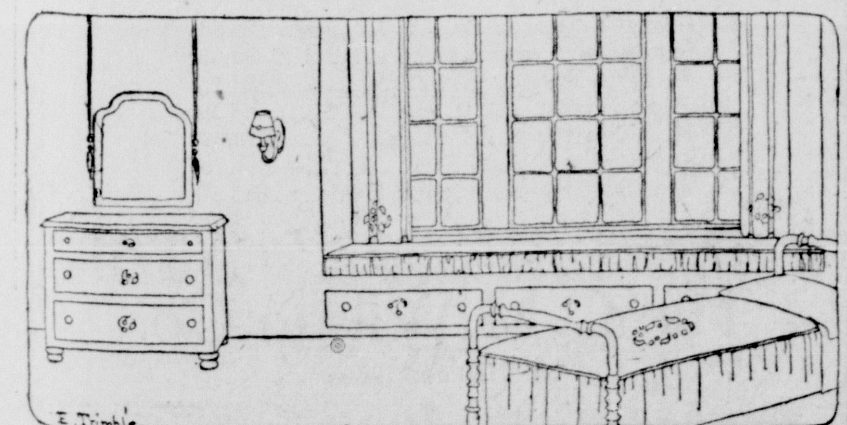

He readily assented, and they began to search. Almost at once they found a boulder that seemed to be ideally placed for their purpose; moreover, one side of it was flat. The soldiers began to clean it preparatory to immortalizing their exploit. But on closer examination they found that the rock was not so smooth as they thought. In fact, there appeared to be lettering on it.

Imagine their amazement when one of them who was accustomed to decipher inscriptions announced that the rock already bore the name of a unit of a great disciplined army—an army the tradition of which had been as glorious as their own. For the timeworn letters informed the Frenchmen not only that the pass had been traversed, but that a road had been built through it by the Sixth legion of the Roman army during the reign of Antoninus Pius more than 16 centuries before!—Youth's Companion.

Plan for Cheap Electricity.

Cheap electricity for rural districts may be produced by harnessing the winds if plans of the British ministry of agriculture succeed. It is believed that new buildings, built on hill-tops, could house the machinery and the huge wings would project from the sides of the buildings and be spun by the wind horizontally just above the ground. If successful several generating stations will be built in out-of-the-way districts.

COLOR SCHEME FOR THE CHILD'S BEDROOM

A color scheme of slate gray and cherry red is very attractive as well as practical for a child's bedroom. The tiny chest of drawers is painted gray with red painted cherries decorating each drawer and the gray painted mirror is hung by red cords. Gray satin piped with cherry red and apple green with red cherries makes the window seat cushion, the window draperies and the cover for the red painted single bed. The drawers under the window seat are for toys.

HOLDS EDUCATION AS IMPORTANT AS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Columbus, March 6.—What is the antidote for disrespect of laws and constituted authority? Stricter enforcement of all laws?

"Yes," says C. C. Crabbe, new attorney general of Ohio, "but with that stricter enforcement there must be a campaign of education, an effort to make people realize what will happen to this country if such an attitude is permitted to grow.

"I think the educational part is as important if not more so than enforcement."

Mr. Crabbe, whose name probably is better known in Ohio by reason of the Crabbe laws for prohibition enforcement than that of any other state official, believes so thoroughly in the doctrine of education to help check lawlessness that he makes it a point to travel over the state whenever he finds time, preaching that theory.

"The attitude of the people must be changed," he continued. "They must know that respect for law and authority is the stabilizer of civilization; that countries fell when laws are laughed at."

Mr. Crabbe asserted he has no more interest in seeing that to famous law that bears his name is enforced than in any other statute.

He pointed out that while he has been a worker in the prohibition cause for many years, the Crabbe law was introduced into the legislature under his name because he happened to be chairman of the legislative committee on liquor traffic and temperance. He said he is not connected in any way with the Anti-Saloon League.

"I have talked in Cleveland, Ashtabula and Youngstown just recently," he continued, "to business men and city officials and you would be surprised at the zeal they show in wanting to help bring before the people the seriousness of lawlessness."

GOVERNOR SIGNS "PADLOCK BILL"

Courts Are Given Right To Declare Liquor Houses Nuisances.

Columbus, March 6.—Gov. A. V. Donahey late Monday signed the "padlock" bill which gives courts authority to declare a place where intoxicating liquors are sold a nuisance and to lock it up for one year.

This is the second prohibition enforcement measure, sponsored by the Anti-Saloon League, enacted by the legislature and given executive approval.

The other measure was the Bender bill, which makes the furnishing of liquor causing death a second-degree murder and subjects the guilty person to a long term of imprisonment. This measure also makes the distilling of intoxicating liquors a felony, punishable by imprisonment and makes the solicitor of orders for liquor also liable to prosecution.

The "padlock" bill, introduced in the legislature by Rep. Gordon of Logan county, is practically identical with the nuisance provision of the Volstead act under which federal courts act.

With this and the Bender bill in operation, together with the present Crabbe enforcement act, Ohio, according to Federal Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, will have the most effective prohibition enforcement code of any state in the union.

Both the Bender and the "padlock" bill will become operative 90 days after they are filed with the secretary of state, unless they are subjected to a referendum. So far, there have been no reports that a referendum might be called on either measure.

MILLIONAIRE SLAIN IN AUTO

Fred Schneider

Fred Schneider, millionaire New York city contractor, was found shot to death, his body lying over the wheel of his automobile, on a lonely road in the Bronx. His two chow dogs were in the car. Mrs. Anna Buzzi, with whom he had lived after his separation from his wife, was later arrested as a material witness. People who heard the shots which killed Schneider declared they had seen a woman running away from the automobile. Schneider was the co-respondent when Mrs. Buzzi's husband divorced her, and it is said he was seeking a reconciliation with his real wife when he was slain.

WORD OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN

Scholars Can Only Guess as to Whence Came the Name Goethe Called Satan.

From time to time there has been considerable dispute concerning the origin of the word "Mephistopheles." Some very bizarre explanations have been propounded before the time of Goethe, who was himself forced to own to the musician, Zelter, in a letter of November 20, 1829: "I cannot give any definite answer to the question, 'Whence comes the name 'Mephistopheles?'"

According to one theory it was a hybrid Graeco-Hebraic formation of mephis and topiel (the liar); according to another its etymology was entirely Greek—very dubious Greek—mephistophilos, "he who does not love the light."

Goethe had a trick of using the abbreviated form, "Mephisto," when it suited the exigencies of his meter. It may be remembered that this particularly irritated Schopenhauer, who wrote in his pamphlet, "On the Murder of the German Language."

"The foolish desire for brevity goes so far as to cut off even the devil's tail by writing 'Mephisto' for 'Mephistopheles!'"

The Lost Token.

The car stopped and three passengers escaped from the confusion of the traffic to the comparative safety of the car's platform. One was a young man with a pink rose in his hand. But as he stepped into the car he dropped the rose to the street. He had already paid his fare and the car had covered half a block before he realized his loss.

An expression, not only of regret, but of panic spread over his face. He pressed the button frantically and at the next corner alighted and started back along the car tracks dodging the traffic.

The woman stretched and craned her neck to see if he were rewarded. Yes, he snatched up the rose from the black city mud and stood brushing the dirt from its pure petals. He had recovered his token for which he was willing to give his time and his fare—just a commonplace, ordinary young man like hundreds you see every day. ## Longed for Home, Sweet Home

By CLARA DELAFIELD

(Ed. 1922 Western Newspaper Union)

Anne had not been home for four years. The fact was, the more she had thought about it, the longer she had procrastinated. She had been a sort of misfit at home. Her father, all her aunts and uncles, the townspeople themselves had shaken their heads and prophesied a bad end for her.

Why?
Anne had gone away to get a job in the "movies" after a temperamental career in the old home town. And nobody knew that Madge Beauty, the famous film actress, was really Anne. You see, Anne looked quite different on the screen.

They had been four bright, hectic years—and yet there had been times when Anne would have swapped them all for a home, a nice, quiet home in the quiet country. With whom? Oh, Ronnie, she supposed.

Ronnie and Anne had been sweethearts from the day when Ronnie knocked down Si Pincher for pulling Anne's curls. Ronnie and she had kissed each other in Lover's lane. Ronnie had given her a ring. Then Anne and he had quarreled, and she had gone away.

However, they had written often and Ronnie had been to see her twice in the city. Impossible man that he was, Ronnie would never take "no." And he wore such a hurt look when she refused him. Poor Ronnie!

"If Ronnie only knew just when and how to take me, he might—perhaps," reflected Anne. He had a determined jaw.

The car rolled through the street. The postmaster recognized Anne. He waved his hand lightly—as to an inferior thing. Anne flushed. But that was nothing to the grin on the ice-man's face, nor the greeting at home. That evening was like a dream—a dream about ice cream, jellied consommé, and frozen fairy. Next morning the inquisition began.

"Well, you've turned up again," sighed Anne's father. "I s'pose you'll be trying to get back that job in Bill Hicks' grocery store?"

Aunt Emma, looking extremely virulent, said:

"I dunno as you can do any good for yourself here, Anne. You see, folks know that you've been tramping up and down the country following the films."

"Following the films?" What did the good lady think the films were—barnstormers? It was too ridiculous. Cousin Kate was vicious. "I'd put on quieter clothes if I was you, Anne," she said. "Folks around these parts don't think too much of dresse-up popinjays."

Anne laughed so hard that Cousin Kate was whisked out of the room, as it were, by the breath of clean mirth.

There were family consultations all day long. What was to be done with Anne? When Anne went into the village, eyes followed her curiously from shop to street, and from street to shop.

"Wal, I reckon you're glad to be home again, after seeing life," said Hen Boggs, the grocer. Two men on the cracker barrel tittered.

The worst of all, however, was Uncle Eb. Uncle Eb had a seventy-acre farm just outside the village. He crame puffing up the hill, vast with importance.

"My pore gal, my pore gal," he began, "you've tasted the wine of life and found it bittersweet and salty, ain't you? There's loving hearts that don't take no account of lapses of repentant sinners."

He broke off, even wincing under Anne's gaze.

"What did you want to say to me, Uncle Eb?" asked Anne.

"My gals and me was talking about getting a domestic help. We'd treat you like the family, Anne."

"If I was treated like your family, Uncle Eb, I'd take an ax to you," said Anne.

She strode haughtily down the road, alternately crying and laughing. How preposterous it all was! Must it be taken for granted that a girl who went on the films had gone to the dogs?

A tall figure was coming toward her. Anne tried to flee—too late; tried to brace herself to meet the shock. Then Ronnie was standing before her, holding her hands.

"Anne, darling, what is it—what is it?" pleaded Ronnie.

"Oh, this place is so hateful, Ronnie. Every one thinks I'm bad because I'm on the films, and they—they don't know I could buy half of them up."

"Be my wife, sweetheart," ventured Ronnie.

Anne looked at him and saw that he had a determined jaw—worse than ever. She freed herself hysterically. "Oh, no, no, no, Ronnie," she cried. "I'm going back to the films."

The Unexpected Happens.

I frequently smiled when the children of my friends mortified them and usually mentioned the irrepressible behavior of my own angel.

One day in a library I was waiting in a line and noticed an extremely plain person who seemed to be in a white rage.

Amused at her odd facial contortions, I surveyed her calmly when she addressed me furiously: "Will you have the goodness, madam, to ask your child to stop kicking me?"

With haughty manner I said: "You didn't kick her, dear, did you?" and waited composedly for her hurt denial. "Yes, I did! She looks so awful cross. Mamma, care if I do it again?"

LEGION IS SEEKING FUND TO DECORATE GRAVES IN EUROPE

Indianapolis, Ind., March 6.—The American Legion today announced plans to raise before next Memorial Day an endowment fund of $100,000 to provide for the permanent annual decoration of the graves of all American World war dead in Europe.

This fund, together with a like sum already available from private contributions, will suffice, legion officials say, beyond the lives of the legion men who contributed to the fund, and will insure that on Memorial Day of each year all graves will be visited by legion representatives and proper respect paid to those who gave their lives to their country.

American cemeteries in Europe are maintained by the government, which, it was explained, has taken excellent care of the graves, but the legion considers that it is its duty to pay the personal tribute to each grave on Memorial Day.

Three years ago Paris post and other overseas organizations of the legion, with the assistance of the American posts, raised a fund of 1,000,000 francs, the income from which was to be used for the decoration of overseas graves. The income from the 1,000,000 francs, representing about $66,000 at present exchange rates, is considered insufficient.

According to figures at legion national headquarters, there are approximately 32,100 graves of American veterans in Europe, 21,400 in France and Belgium, 488 in England, 140 in Scotland, 40 in Ireland, and one in Spain.

The fund will be raised by the legion from its 11,000 posts in the United States and in foreign countries. The office of the national treasurer of the legion in Indianapolis will receive the contributions from the posts, and also private donations to the fund, it was announced.

RUHR OCCUPATION HALTS COMMERCE

Washington, March 6.—General confusion resulting from occupation of the Ruhr valley by the French is believed by Secretary of Commerce Hoover to be chiefly responsible for interference with American shipments of goods in and out of the occupied area.

In making this statement today Hoover said many complaints had been filed with the state department and the department of commerce against shipments being held up. He added, however, that the French export tax, repudiated by the Germans, also has a bearing on interference with commerce.

COUNTY INFIRMARY

suggested in a supplementary report filed by County Health Commissioner S. A. McCullough. This feature was brought to the attention of the commissioners last summer by Mr. Harris. These investigators also advise the elimination of unsanitary toilets on the upper floor of the insane building.

Following is the report of findings of this department made after an inspection of the sanitary conditions existing in and around the buildings of the County infirmary.

Sanitary Report
The buildings are clean and well kept but owing to the construction of the buildings the ventilation is not good and can not be made good with the present ventilation system. The kitchen and dining room are clean and the food served the inmates is pure and wholesome.

The toilets on the upper floor of the insane building are unsanitary and should be eliminated.
The inmates are bathed regularly and kept clean. The beds and bed clothing were in first-class condition with the exception of a few in the insane building which might be better kept.

Attention must be called to the water system supply. We found the water used for bathing, laundry and dish washing being pumped from the stream that flows past the buildings and which receives surface water of the hog lot, pastures, etc., and should be abandoned. Wholesome water for bathing, laundry and dish washing can be secured from a good spring some distance northwest of the buildings. This change in water supply we find was advised by Supt. Lyle Harris some time ago.

Eliminate Spring
We also found a spring situated along the west side of the public road south of the buildings that is located in such a position as to receive drainage from an old burying ground nearby, and recommended that it be eliminated by filling with stone and earth.
The ice pond is so located as to receive drainage that would render ice taken from it to be unsafe for domestic purposes but as we were informed it is only used for refrigerating purposes there would be no objection to its use for such purposes.
Respectfully submitted,
Signed: S. A. McCULLOUGH,
Health Commissioner.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank our neighbors who worked faithfully to help save our barn from burning Sunday; also the firemen who responded so promptly.

Wellsville Is 100 Years Old, County Deed Reveals

By M. K. ZIMMERMAN

In deed book No. 8 in the office of County Recorder John R. Reark, at page 311 are these words:

"On the 8th day of October 1823, personally came before me Joseph Mans, one of the acting Justices of the Peace for the county of Columbiana, the above named William Wells, and acknowledged the foregoing map or 'plat' of the town of Wellsville to be his act and deed and for the purposes therein mentioned, and desired that the same might be recorded as the law directs. In testimony thereof I hereunto set my hand and seal the day above mentioned.

"Joseph Mans, Justice of the Peace."
"JOSEPH MANS,
"Justice of the Peace."
"Recorded and compared the 11th day of October 1823."
"J. SPRINGER,
"Recorder."

This prefixed text to the instrument therefore shows that Wellsville, as a town to have been laid out a century ago October 8, next, and that 1923 is the centennial year for the "town."

This record shows that Wellsville as then plotted was located in township 9, range 2 of the "Steubenville Land District" upon the north bank of the Ohio river.

At page 281 in the same record book, is recorded a deed from William Wells to James Wells, for the transfer of 12 and 97-100th acres for a consideration of $25.25, "lawful money of the United States in hand paid." This tract of land in Yellow Creek township, and which a little later became a part of the city of Wellsville, was granted by the United States to Robert Johnston, by patent under date of April 17, 1783, and from whom William Wells obtained the property later.

Early history records that the land now occupied by the township of Yellow Creek was surveyed under government authority, together with adjoining tracts by Robert Johnston, shortly previous to 1783.

In 1795, James Clark of Washington County, Pa., came into the almost then wilderness, and bought 304 acres of land from Johnston, for which he paid at the rate of $6 per acre.

It is upon this tract that the "town of Wellsville" was originally laid out.

CAUSES OF RISING EDUCATION COSTS

Increased Attendance And High School Growth
Are Noted.

It costs only $2.16 more per year for each child to secure the greatly expanded modern school training than it did to secure the limited education of 1890, according to an analysis prepared by the State Department of Education. Four reasons for the increase in instruction costs are pointed out: (1) The increased school attendance; (2) the decreased purchasing power of the dollar; (3) the remarkable growth of high schools, and (4) the increase in the social effectiveness of public education.

The cost of instruction, which does not include new buildings and various miscellaneous expenses, was over $41,000,000 dollars more in 1920-21, the latest year for which figures are available, than in 1890-91. An increase in attendance which amounts to 62 per cent and a lengthening of the school year by at least 7 per cent accounts for more than $6,000,000 of this increase.

Price index numbers for 1890 and 1920 show that for every $100 spent for education three decades ago $290 would be needed in 1920 to buy the same amount. To give the 1890 type of education to the number of pupils enrolled in 1920-21 for the longer school year would cost $15,000,000; however, it would take $45,000,000 of the 1920 dollars to buy this $15,000,000 worth because of the depreciation of the dollar. This accounts for $30,000,000 of the increase.

If high schools had grown no faster than the schools as a whole, there would have been 108,000 fewer youth in high school in 1920-21 than there actually were. Educating this excess number costs at least $25 more per pupil annually than elementary education and accounts for $2,700,000 of the increase over 1890.

The remainder of the total increase of $41,000,000 is chargeable to the broadened efficiency of the schools and amounts to two and a quarter millions. On the basis of total enrollment, this means, so Department of Education officials show, 24 cents per month for each pupil, which they assert is a remarkably low price to pay for the more elaborate and more inclusive program of training which the present social order demands. It is denominated as the biggest baragan of the age.

FINDS LINCOLN WAY IMPASSABLE

County Commissioner Berg and County Surveyor Kirk, hearing of the impassable condition of the Lincoln highway, west of Lisbon, and near the county infirmary, started last evening to make a tour of inspection. They ran into such bad roads that they were unable to reach the worst portion.

The section of the road was under the process of paving last fall when bad weather set in and the contractor stopped work. For weeks, its condition has steadily grown worse until at present it is hub deep with mud. Farmers along the route are making money pulling cars out of the mud.

An effort will be made to drain the water so the road will have a chance to dry out and the operation of paving can proceed.

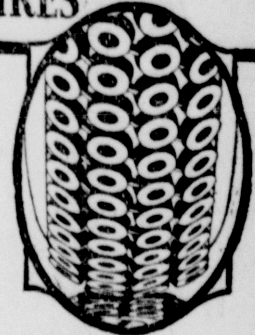

Youngstown — Because she could earn more money attired in a man's clothing and working in a steel mill at a man's work, Miss Johanna Dickson, 20, masqueraded as one of the male sex. She was released by police after admitting the deception and telling of her need of the money earned during her several weeks employment in the mill.

ARE you getting over a cold or grip only to find yourself a victim of backache? Are you suffering headaches, too, dizzy spells, a dull, tired, worn-out feeling and annoying kidney irregularities? Then don't delay! Physicians agree that a vast number of the worst cases of kidney trouble are the result of germ diseases. In every infectious disease the system is alive with poisonous germs and bacteria. The kidneys are overwhelmed with the rush of new work; they break down, become congested, inflamed and diseased. Too often the real trouble is lost sight of until some dangerous kidney ailment sets in. If your kidneys are falling behind, don't wait for serious trouble. Begin using Doan's Kidney Pills today. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Salem Folks Found Relief:

H. E. Bard, 16 E. Fourth St., says: "A cold settled on my kidneys that caused sharp twinges to shoot through my back. Every time I stooped these pains got me right in the small of my back and surely did hurt. Mornings, I would feel achy and mean all over. My kidneys were weak and knowing what Doan's Kidney Pills had done for others, I bought a box. After taking them, the pains in my back eased up and my kidneys worked in a normal manner again."

Mrs. John Bare, 135 W. Dry St., says: "Sharp pains like a knife sticking me in the back would knock me out entirely. If I picked up anything pains would catch me in the back so bad I had to let it drop. My kidneys didn't act right and I felt miserable. I was so dizzy I often fell flat when stooping. I tried different remedies with no relief until I used Doan's Kidney Pills from Floding's Drug Store. The first box relieved me and several boxes cured me."

Arthur Simm, machinist helper, 90 Lincoln Ave., says: "A cold settled on my kidneys and they ached all the time. I had a steady numb feeling. I was exposed to all sorts of weather and doing seaman's work was a strain on my back. To stoop or lift anything caused sharp pains to shoot through my back. I had to pass the kidney secretions often. I used Doan's Kidney Pills as I knew they were good for kidney weakness. One box of Doan's made my kidneys act regularly and I had no more backache."

FOES OF GAS TAX WILL BE HEARD

House Highway Committee to Meet Today

ADVOCATES HAVE THEIR INNING

Senate Bill Abolishing Right of Nomination by Petition for Judicial Offices Threatened With Referendum In Event of Its Enactment. Case of Mayor Vogt to Be Appealed to Supreme Court—Work of General Assembly.

Columbus, March 6. — Today the house highway committee will hold a public hearing at which opponents of the gasoline tax excise bill, fostered by Representative Brown of Champaign county, will have their inning. According to representatives of various organizations fighting the bill, the authorship of the measure is to be traced back to C. H. Duncan, legal counsel for the Ohio Contractors' association and former prosecuting attorney of Champaign county. Opponents of the tax measure made no representations to the committee Thursday, when representatives of the Ohio grange and the Ohio Farm Bureau federation had their say. These latter praised the measure and urged favorable action thereon, on the ground that highway maintenance costs are increasing to such an extent that additional revenue must be raised to keep roads from deteriorating to such an extent that the present system already constructed will not be entirely destroyed.

The great need in road building, according to Will P. Blair, Cleveland engineer and identified with the National Paving Brick association, is actual knowledge. "We highway engineers have been camouflaging," said Mr. Blair. "We have been pretending to know something about building roads when we really didn't know. If we ever find out how to build roads properly we can build them for one-half the money we spend on them today."

Congressman-elect Charles Brand of Urbana, a member of the state senate two years ago, appeared before the committee to urge the adoption of gravel roads in Ohio, such as are maintained in Indiana and which Champaign county is now building. He declared that such roads are built in Champaign county for $1,750 a mile, including the cost of equipment.

Favoring the gasoline tax, Brand declared that it will bring to the state for road work $2,500,000 a year and that at that rate the 5,000 miles of road still to be built can be completed in four years.

Senator Gifford's bill abolishing the right of nomination by petition for judicial offices was passed by the senate by a vote of 25 to 6. Three Democrats and three Republicans voted against the measure. The bill was amended so that it will prevent any independent candidate from entering an election without being a candidate in a "nonpartisan primary." The measure now goes to the house. At the present time candidates for the bench may go on the November ballot by filing petitions. It was pointed out by opponents of the bill that Judge Florence B. Allen of Cleveland was nominated last fall on a petition filed after the primary.

Senator George H. Bender, Cleveland, Republican, and Senator W. F. Garver, Democrat, of Holmes county, announced there would be a referendum on the Gifford bill, abolishing the right to nominate candidates for judicial offices by petition, if it passes the house and is signed by Governor Donahay. "The right of referendum still exists and there will be a referendum on this bill if it passes the house and is not vetoed by the governor," declared Senator Garver, who is minority floor leader. "I shall be one of the first ones to call for a referendum," declared Senator Bender.

The paving brick industry and other companies supplying road materials to the state and counties may be subjected to a legislative investigation. Senator Gifford is behind a resolution asking for the appointment of a committee of three representatives and three senators to conduct such an inquiry. In his resolution Gifford cites a message to the legislature from Governor Donahay, referring to "the strong hold the material interests now have in Ohio." The resolution declares that it is "common knowledge that there is virtually no competition among manufacturers and dealers in paving brick and other road materials." An appropriation of $3,000 for the investigation is asked.

Hearing of the house finance committee of requests for appropriations for state institutions has been completed by the committee and the welfare director, and it was indicated that most of the requests for money for the institutions would be recommended by the committee. The matter will soon be put up to the senate finance committee. The largest appropriation is for the Ohio State Hospital.

proprietor will be available to increase the housing facilities at the Orient branch of the state institution for feeble-minded, and additional cottage provided for, which will greatly increase the capacity of the branch. Appropriations for bettering conditions at the state schools for the blind and deaf are also to be recommended by the house finance committee. Hearing of the institutional requirements before the senate finance committee will be held during the next ten days.

The bill pending in the Ohio legislature providing funds "to create and maintain a separate department for children in the state tuberculosis sanatorium at Mt. Vernon," has been endorsed by the Ohio Association of Tuberculosis Hospital Superintendents, at its convention here. Dr. C. O. Probst of Columbus is the author of the resolution.

Another recommendation made to the legislature provided that "teachers of children in state institutions should be paid out of board of education funds"—a pro rata tax from each district represented at the institution.

Following the announcement of Governor Donahay's decision removing Herbert H. Vogt from the office of mayor of Massillon, Joseph McGhee, former attorney general and chief counsel for Mayor Vogt, declared that the case would be appealed to the supreme court. From Massillon came the reported statement of Mayor Vogt that he would fight the case to the last and was uncertain whether he would "give up physical possession of the mayor's office." He said he would come before the people for re-election and vindication if he lost in the court.

Governor Donahay removed Mayor Vogt for alleged nonfeasance in office and "gross and wilful neglect of duty in that he did not enforce or in good faith try to enforce the laws." The governor, out of the testimony offered in the three-day trial, centered chiefly on the shifting about of chiefs of police in charging misconduct.

The defense will base its appeal on three grounds, all of which were enunciated from time to time during the trial. First, it is claimed that the statutes under which the governor sat in judgment on the mayor are unconstitutional. Second, it is alleged that the mayor was denied a full public hearing in that the affidavits on which the charges against him were founded were not submitted to the mayor on demand of his counsel. Third, that there was no competent evidence, acceptable in a regularly constituted tribunal, upon which the mayor could be convicted; and that the governor's decision was formulated from testimony, rather than evidence, and that much of this testimony was hearsay. The case will be taken to the supreme court as soon as it can be couched in the proper form for filing there, Mr. McGhee said.

In his order of removal, Donahay said he appreciated that it is a serious matter to remove a public official who was elected by the people, but as the case had been presented to him and under the laws of the state he had a duty to perform.

Donahay said that after hearing the evidence on both sides and considering it, "there is no escape from the conclusion that Mayor Vogt has been proven guilty of the charges filed against him. The evidence shows that he as mayor was guilty of nonfeasance in office and gross and wilful neglect of duty in office in that he did not enforce or in good faith try to enforce the laws," said Donahay.

6 PERSONS KILLED BY ROACH POISON

Deadly Gas Seeps Through Opening, Killing Six As They Sleep.

Chicago, Ill., March 6.—Death of six persons by a deadly gas used in the extermination of roaches in a South Chicago restaurant will be investigated at a coroner's inquest late today. The deadly gas seeped through an opening in the wall up to the second floor and killed the victims as they slept.

O. W. Hall, representative of the National Hygienic corporation is being held pending the outcome of the inquest. Investigation is being made to determine whether he can be held criminally liable for the death.

Hall, who told the police he had been an inmate of the Dunning asylum, was employed to fumigate the restaurant. He came with a number of pans into which he placed a cyanide compound over which he poured sulphuric acid gas, creating a poison almost as deadly as the gaseous substance used in the World war. He stuffed all openings, except one. It was through this one the gas escaped.

Youngest Of Junior Klan Is Sentenced

Floyd Thomas, 16, the youngest member of the Junior K. K. K., of East Liverpool, and the only one, remaining at the county seat, was brought before Judge Riddle yesterday afternoon and given a hearing.

Thomas acknowledged his guilt and told the court a straight story of his escapade. He admitted that he had gone with the other members of the gang on several occasions and stated that he had learned a lesson that he would not soon forget. The court seemed to be impressed by his sincerity but in view of the circumstances sentenced him to an indeterminate period in the boys' industrial school at Lancaster.

What's Behind Your Light Bill?

Perhaps all you see on that slip of paper is a lot of figures, a discount date, something about so many kilowatt hours and the address of our general office.

What you don't see behind your light bill is the vast array of men, money and material constantly required to give you light when you push a button.

Think of the buildings, the fortunes invested in machinery, the army of men from skilled engineers to office staff! Think of the hundreds of miles of wire, every inch of which must be kept in service.

Isn't it remarkable that the small sum of money indicated in your bill has placed all these factors to work for you!
